(Issued as a Special Army Circular, 15th March, 1872)

With a view of economising the balances in the hands of paymasters and other accountants, and also of facilitating the adjustment of the advances by one accountant on behalf of another, without the transmission of bank notes, cheques, or other negotiable documents, the following regulations will take effect at home stations from the 1st of April next.

2. When a paymaster or other accountant has paid, under any existing regulations, a sum on behalf of another paymaster or accountant, he will (except in the case referred to in paragraph 6) notify the amount thereof, to the person on whose account the payment has been made, on W. O. Form 1186.

3. On receipt of this form the paymaster or accountant, for whom the payment has been made will, if satisfied that the amount is correct, at once complete the latter portion of the form (reply), and return it to the officer by whom the amount was paid.

4. The paymaster or accountant for whom the payment has been made will include upon debit himself with the amount, and on making up his accounts will include in a schedule (W. O. Form 1173), the total of which he will carry (as the last item) to the last page of the general state (debit side) of his pay-list or account under the head "Paymasters' Advances."

5. The paymaster or other accountant by whom the payment has been made will credit himself with the amount, and on making up his accounts will include it in a schedule (W. O. Form 1174), the items in which will be supported by vouchers (W. O. Form 1186, or 1187 (hereafter referred to), and the total of which he will carry (as the last item) to the last page of the general state (credit side) of his pay list or account, under the head of "Paymasters' Advances."

6. In the case of payments made by the paymaster of the London recruiting district that officer will notify, on W. O. Form 1207 (in lieu of Form 1186), the amount of warrants paid by him; and the reply, instead of being forwarded immediately as in other cases, will be transmitted, as soon as practicable after the expiration of each month, on W. O. Form No. 1209, and the total amount for the month will be included in the schedules (W. O. Forms 1173 and 1174).

7. A similar course to that laid down in paras. 2 to 5 will be followed in any case in which, under existing regulations, a cash remittance would be made from one War Office accountant to another, and to meet which the Forms 1186 and 1209 are not applicable. The Form 1187 will be used for such cases, and the paymaster on whose behalf the payment is to be made will debit himself with the amount, and on making up his accounts will include it in the schedule (W. O. Form 1173) in the manner described in paragraph 4 of these instructions.

8. The paymaster, or other accountant, making the payment, will charge the amount in the manner prescribed by paragraph 5 of these instructions, the charge being supported by the voucher on W. O. Form 1187.

9. No amount will under these regulations be introduced into the pay lists, or other accounts rendered to the War Office, unless both the officers concerned are agreed as to its correctness.

10. The date of the first notification of a payment (see paragraph 2), or of the regulation that a payment may be made (see paragraph 7), will govern the period of the account which both the charge and the credit should appear; special care being taken that transactions under these regulations, initiated on or before the 31st of March in each ar, are adjusted in the pay lists and other accounts to that date.

II. Paymasters will omit from both sides of their estimates such sums as would in ecessary course be paid by the paymaster of the London district, or any other account- on their behalf.

12. When a regiment is under orders for foreign service, the paymaster will, as far as racticable, settle railway and other expenses chargeable against the public, and include them in his final pay list. Any such expenses which cannot be adjusted prior to the embarkation of the regiment, will be admitted in the accounts of the paymaster paying the depôt or the battalion of the same regiment on home service. Arrangements should also be made to leave in the hands of any such paymaster any necessary funds to admit of the repayment of outstanding warrants, which are not chargeable in the public accounts.

13. It is to be distinctly understood that these instructions are in no way intended to affect or disturb any of the existing regulations under which advances are now made, but apply solely to the method of adjusting such advances between accountants. The amounts included in railway and passage warrants and other vouchers of similar character will, therefore, be dealt with by accountants in all respects, except settlement in accordance with these instructions, precisely as at present.

14. All the new forms mentioned in the foregoing regulations are printed in the appendix to this circular.

Cl. 53.—Repayment Claims.

All repayment claims forwarded to the War Office for recovery will, for the future, be made on W. O. Form 1242, supported by receipts on W. O. Form 1216—as directed by Clause 128, Army Circulars 1871, in the case of repayment claims against the Admiralty

Cl. 54.—Men of the Army Hospital Corps employed as Clerks in Medical Offices, &c., at Foreign Stations.

1. The extra-duty pay allowed to men of the Army Hospital Corps employed as clerks in medical offices abroad, or in any other position in which the extra pay is charged to "Vote 4, Medical Establishment and Services," will, from the 1st of April, 1872, be paid by the local control paymaster.

2. The charges for such pay will accordingly, from the above-mentioned date, be made in the account current of the local control paymaster, instead of in the pay list of the Army Hospital Corps as heretofore.

Cl. 55.—Payments to Civilian Medical Practitioners.

All medical claims of civilian practitioners, whether they relate to regimental or to garrison duty, will, in future, be settled by the control paymasters. No such claims will be admitted in regimental pay lists for periods subsequent to the date of the receipt of this circular.

CONTROL SERVICES.

Cl. 56.—General Rules as to the Issue of Stores.

The following orders are to be strictly attended to by controllers in approving requisitions for the supply of stores, by commissaries in making the issues, and by officers receiving stores.

1. No issue of stores of any description, except issues on repayment or supplies charged to subsidiary votes than that for stores, can be allowed, as a final discharge from the commissary's accounts, unless the issue be made to an officer, or a department, directly accounting to the War Office. In the cases of supplies on repayment, or chargeable to other Army votes than that for stores, the articles will be marked and considered as sold.

2. In the event of stores being issued to individual officers or others who are not accountants, the supply can only be considered as on loan, and the commissary making the issue will be held responsible for the due return of the stores within a reasonable time.

3. The foregoing paragraph particularly refers to supplies of camp equipage to staff officers, and to supplies to the reserve forces of articles which are not part of the equipment as prescribed by regulation. It does not apply to issues of camp equipage of such stores to the regular forces, since for this service the articles would have to be accounted for in the equipment ledger.

4. All officers who are not accountants will, as far as possible (which is always the case with the Royal Artillery), draw their camp equipment through the [illegible] of a regiment or battery. When this cannot be done the officer, department, [illegible] of the reserve forces drawing the stores, will be held responsible for their due return. The commissary making the issues. When the stores are returned a delivery voucher (W. O. Form 1220) will be sent with them, and particulars given as to the date original supply, by whom made, &c., so that the stores may be identified by the commissary receiving them.

5. If, through the exigencies of the service, the officers or others who have drawn stores take them with them on being transferred to another depôt or command, the commissary who originally made the issue, will send, through the controller, to the controller to whose district the officers or others have gone, a detail of the articles supplied. The commissary who originally made the issue will then be absolved from responsibility.

6. On receipt of the return, the controller of the new district, after obtaining a verification of the charge from the officers or others, to whom the original issue was made, will direct the commissary on whose depôt they are dependent, to open an account against the individual or corps, and the commissary will then become responsible for due return of the stores.

7. In the event of the controller to whose district the officers or others have gone not stating to the contrary, within fourteen days (or seven days in the cases referred to in paragraph 14), after the communication alluded to in paragraph 6 has been made, will be assumed that the charge has been acknowledged as made.

8. In order to avoid additional clerical labour being imposed on the commissariat issue vouchers of all such provisional supplies (after entry in the issue journal and being in the ledger), will be placed in a guard book, but not pasted in. As the issue is not final, the vouchers will not be surrendered with the ledger, until it can be stated on the face of them that the stores have been returned, on a specified date, or else they have been transferred to another district. In the latter case the date of the [illegible] making such transfer will be quoted.

9. In the event of the stores detailed in the issue vouchers not being returned transferred to another district, at the date fixed for the surrender of the store ledger examination, certified copies of the same will be transmitted, and the originals forwarded from time to time, as the transactions to which they relate are completed.

10. Commissaries will see that stores issued to officers or others who are not accountants are returned to the store depôt as early as practicable after the service which the issues were made is completed.

11. As it is often difficult to obtain receipts from persons who are unaccustomed to draw stores, all requisitions from non-accountants will be made on the form [illegible] in the Appendix, pp. 40 and 41.

12. On receipt of the requisition, the controller will order the supply on one [illegible] and return the other to the officer or corps requiring the stores. The controller [illegible] state on the demand the depôt from which the stores will be drawn. The duplicate copy of the demand will be completed by the officer requiring the stores, and [illegible] over to the person who is to receive the stores on his behalf. This person will present the demand to the commissary at the depôt from which the supply is to be made. [illegible] will sign the receipt when the stores have been delivered to him. The duplicate demand will thus become the receipt for the stores, and the officer or department to whom the supplies are drawn will become responsible for the stores delivered to the person named in the demand.

13. Exchanges, if in every way legitimate, will be considered final transactions.

14. On an Army taking the field, or in the case of flying columns, when consisting of stores are attached to divisions, transfers from one commissary to another will place as laid down in paragraph 5, except that the time of acknowledgment will be restricted to seven days, in the place of fourteen as in paragraph 7.

15. Claims for losses or for damage, not caused by fair wear, will be made direct on the responsible person, who will be required to pay for the same at once, as in the case of barrack damages.

16. The foregoing regulations will also guide transactions connected with the issue of all stores to non-accountants, such as articles lent to admiralty overseers for [illegible] magazines.

Officers commanding the Royal Artillery will be responsible that the foregoing arrangements are carried out.

4. In works that do not come under the classification in paragraph 2, the proportion of filled cartridges will remain as at present.

Payment for such articles will be made during the quarter in which they are received, or (in the event of their being received during the last month of the quarter) in the succeeding quarter. Care will therefore be taken that no larger quantities of such articles are at any time demanded than the regiment is prepared to pay for in the manner above directed.

1. The Board of Inland Revenue having decided that, for the future, the sums stopped under regulations from the pay of officers, as a contribution to the Regimental Band Fund, are to be exempted from income duty, paymasters of regiments will transmit annually on W. In that case, the bandmaster will produce the local collector's receipt in proof of payment.

G.O. 23.—Commissions, Promotions, &c.

Arrangements have been made for the supply of a copy of the London Gazette to general officers commanding districts in Great Britain and Ireland (as well as to general officers commanding on foreign stations) to enable them to notify, in district orders, to all concerned, the promotions, exchanges, &c. of staff and regimental officers serving under their orders.

G.O. 24.—Absence without leave.

I. When the record of the proceedings of Courts of Enquiry on illegal absence, prescribed in the 167th Article of War, has been duly entered in the regimental court martial book, and signed by the commanding officer, the proceedings are to be forthwith destroyed.

II. When a regiment embarks for foreign service, copies of such records referring to all men still absent, signed by the officer having custody of the regimental books, are to be left with the depôt.

G.O. 25.—Absconding Recruits.

Recruits who abscond before attestation, and who may be committed to confinement under 4th clause of the Mutiny Act, cannot be removed under military escort, unless they have received pay in addition to enlisting money. Inspecting field officers of recruiting districts, and officers commanding regiments, corps and depôts, are therefore, when stating the facts of the case on the back of the commitment report, to be careful to mention whether the recruit has received pay, other than enlisting money, or enlisting money only.

G.O. 26.—Gymnasia.

I. Medical officers in charge of regiments that have been quartered long enough at any station possessing a gymnasium, to enable the men to undergo training, will specially report on the effects, if noticeable, of such training on the muscular development and health of the men on their leaving the station, and as to the general influence of gymnastics in promoting a vigorous constitution. In furtherance of this duty they will frequently visit the gymnasium, and witness the measurements of the recruits on entering the course, and also the measurements on its termination.

II. The principal medical officer will refer to the subject in his annual sanitary report, giving the substance of the information furnished to him by regimental medical officers, with any remarks thereon that he may deem necessary concerning the utility of gymnasia.

G.O. 27.—Musketry.

The following alterations in the present system of musketry instruction having been sanctioned,—to take effect from the commencement of the annual course of 1872-3,—the emendations contained in Appendix A will be made in the last edition of the Musketry Regulations, dated 1st March, 1870; viz.:—

1. The recruits are to execute target practice as follows:—1st period, at every 50 yards from 100 to 250 yards; 2nd period, from 300 to 450 yards; 3rd period, from 500 to 650 yards.

2. All recruits and trained soldiers are to execute the 2nd period of target practice, the former from 300 to 450 yards,—the latter from 400 to 600 yards,—before a classification is made.

3. In the first class the trained soldiers may fire in any position, the recruits only at the last two distances; but no artificial rests are to be used.

4. The figure of merit is to be established from the average points obtained in the 1st and 2nd periods, the aggregate total points to be divided by the number of men who commenced the 1st period, plus the average points obtained in volley firing, but minus the per-centage of 3rd class shots at final classification.

5. A summary,—Appendix B,—recording the result of the volley, independent and skirmishing practices has been substituted for the diagram, and all fair hits and ricochets (but not hits by fragments of bullets) found on the target will count two points. Bull's eye will no longer count four in these practices.

6. The number of times that extra position drill and judging distance practice has been performed will not in future be entered in the monthly musketry diary and in the Inspector's reports, but commanding officers are nevertheless specially enjoined to have these exercises frequently executed in accordance with the Musketry Regulations.

G.O. 28.—Fines for Drunkenness.

I. The G. O. 46 of 1869, is hereby cancelled, and the following rules—to take effect from the date of receipt hereof—are to be observed in dealing with the crime of drunkenness in the Army, under the 77th Article of War, by the infliction of summary fines in accordance with the scale, Appendix C, which is to be strictly adhered to, but which is not applicable to non-commissioned officers.

II. The fines are progressive in amount on the repetition of acts of drunkenness on the other hand, are subject to reduction in proportion to the length of time between the offences,—thereby holding out strong inducements to the soldier to

III. The fines are to be enforced by an actual daily or weekly stoppage, each soldier is paid, and not by a mere debit in the monthly account. The begin from the day (inclusive) upon which the fine was inflicted.

V. The fines for a second offence, while the soldier is already undergoing for a former act of drunkenness, are to commence when the first has been

VI. The soldier, in every case of fine, has the right of appeal to a court deny the offence; but, if he acknowledge it, he cannot appeal to a court the amount of fine inflicted according to the scale.

VII. When an act of drunkenness is accompanied by any other offence may be necessary to try a soldier by a regimental court-martial, the man is to with summarily, in accordance with this order, for the act of drunkenness, his trial for the other offence. If, however, the soldier is to be tried by a garrison court-martial, he is not to be so dealt with, but the act of drunk form one of the charges against him.

VIII. Fines that cannot be recovered from the individual soldier's pay, able from any other source.

IX. In all cases after an act of drunkenness, the soldier is, where practicable, kept in barracks or camp for 24 hours (to be reckoned from the hour of his fined) without punishment drill; but this time is not to be counted as part of punishment that may be awarded by a commanding officer.

X. All fines awarded are to be entered in the regimental defaulter book, and in regimental orders.

XI. An act of absence without leave, although not an offence to be punished is to be considered as equivalent to an act of drunkenness when there is good believing that it arose from the design of the soldier to remain absent until return sober; and as it is essential that soldiers should be prevented from for drunkenness by absenting themselves in this manner, commanding officers ing with cases of absence, will use a discretionary power in deciding—from their ledge of the individual soldier's character, and the attendant circumstances of whether the absence is or is not to be considered as equivalent to an act of Their decision in every case is to be recorded at the time, and entered in defaulter sheets. Thus, a soldier who has had previous acts of absence him as equivalent to drunkenness, may be fined for his first act of drunkenness ing to the scale.

XII. Convictions by courts-martial for absence without leave or desertion carry their own punishments with them, are not to be counted as equivalent drunkenness.

XIII. Every entry of absence not disposed of by courts-martial, and equivalent act of drunkenness under the rules in force up to the date of receipt of this counted against soldiers in computing the future fines to be imposed for drunkenness.

XVI. The following rule is to be observed in imposing the additional to in the scale (g). When a soldier has committed four acts of drunkenness equivalent thereto, within twelve calendar months, the sum of 2*s.* his fine for every subsequent act of drunkenness committed within soldier is not liable to fine under the scale, the 2*s.* 6*d.* is not to XVIII. Upon the receipt of this order, the company defaulter books are to be at once posted by numbering consecutively, in red ink, every act of drunkenness committed by a soldier since the date of his enlistment. The numbering of the entries in the regimental defaulter book is to correspond with that in the company defaulter book. Cases of absence, although considered equivalent to drunkenness, are not to be so numbered.

XIX. The amount accruing from the fines forms a general fund, applicable under the direction of the Secretary of State for War to objects tending to the benefit of the soldiers of the army generally.

XX. The number of men who have been fined for drunkenness during the month—the number of fines—and the total amount of fines, are to be shown at the foot of the monthly return of courts-martial.

XXI. All defaulters are to be permitted to enter the canteen during certain fixed hours in the day, say from 6 to 8 p.m.

GEN. ORDERS—continued.

VIII. A guard of honour of the Foot Guards, completed from the Queen's guard at St. James's to 1 regimental captain, 2 subalterns, and the usual proportion of non-commissioned officers and 100 rank and file, with Queen's colour and band, will attend at Buckingham Palace; and a guard of honour of the same strength will mount at the great western entrance of St. Paul's, where Her Majesty will enter the Cathedral.

IX. A salute will be fired by the Park and Tower guns at the conclusion of the service.

X. The line of the procession will be kept by the troops as detailed in programme of route,—Appendix D.

XI. A body of seamen from Her Majesty's fleet will be stationed in Trafalgar Square.

XII. The cavalry will occupy the openings of the streets on the line of the procession and into St. Paul's Churchyard, and will furnish the necessary patrols for keeping the route perfectly clear.

XIII. The troops will be at the posts assigned to them by ten o'clock; and after Her Majesty has passed, both going to and returning from the Cathedral, the whole will stand fast till they receive orders to move off.

G.O. 30.—Mess Subscriptions, &c.

In the last sentence of Para. 294 of the "Queen's Regulations and Orders for the Army" the under-mentioned alterations will be made;—

Instead of the words—"On an officer leaving his regiment he is to be repaid his subscriptions from the date of his successor's appointment," the following are to be substituted—"no officer on leaving his regiment is to be charged with regimental subscriptions beyond the date of his name appearing in the Gazette, or that on which the notification is received at the regiment, should he be actually serving with it at the time."

By command,

RICHARD AIREY,

Adj. Gen.

G.O. 36—Forms.

I. The last sentence of paragraph 175 of the "Queen's Regulations and Orders for the Army" is to be cancelled.

II. W.O. Forms 710 and 718 will not be reprinted.

G.O. 37.—Horses.

I. Cases of worn out horses of fifteen years old and upwards, of horses which by accident have become quite useless for military purposes, and of horses considered by the veterinary surgeon to be absolutely incurable, are in future to be brought at once to the notice of general officers in command of districts, with a view, should they concur, authority being obtained for the horses to be cast and sold for the benefit of the public.

II. All other cases (whether medical or otherwise) should be reserved for the annual inspection, excepting only horses suffering from infectious or contagious diseases, which should be dealt with as prescribed in the "Queen's Regulations and Orders for the Army."

III. At the annual inspection, the inspecting general is to be furnished with the following returns:—

"A" A return of casualties, and of the horses which have been cast prior to the inspection.

"B" A return of horses proposed to be cast. This return should not contain a greater number of horses than would, with those alluded to in "A," complete the authorized per-centage.

"C" A return of all horses which it may be deemed advisable to cast in excess of the per-centage.

IV. In some regiments the castings and casualties may be under the per centage. When this occurs, the inspecting general is to be furnished with a return of the number of horses within the limit, in order that he may be able (without exceeding the aggregate number of horses voted to meet such contingencies) to increase the number of castings in other regiments, where perhaps there may be an exceptional number of worn out, or inefficient horses.

I am, &c.,

By Authority.

THE ARMY AND ITS ADVANTAGES.

Terms on which Young Men are invited to join Her Majesty's Forces.

INFANTRY.

A soldier who enlists in the Infantry engages to serve for 12 years, the first 6 years in the Army and the last 6 years in the Reserve.

The pay of an Infantry soldier while serving in the Army is 1*s.* 2*d.* a-day, with an additional 1d. "beer money."

Lodging, bedding, fuel and light are supplied free.

Good food is provided at less than cost price; at home, a daily ration, consisting of 1lb. of bread and ½-lb. of meat, is supplied to soldiers for 4½*d*, which is stopped from their pay; in the colonies, 1lb. of bread and 1lb. of meat is supplied for 3½*d.*

The soldier on first joining is clothed, and provided with brushes, razors, and all other necessaries, free of charge.

He is afterwards supplied annually with the principal articles of clothing; but is required to provide himself with some of the smaller articles, such as shirts and socks, and to keep up his supply of brushes, &c., at his own cost; these are furnished at a low price by Government; and the total expense to which he is put on this account does not, on an average, amount to a penny a-day.

In case of sickness, medical treatment in hospital, with proper food, &c., is provided for a stoppage of 10d. a-day from the soldier's pay.

By good conduct a soldier may obtain an increase to his pay of 1*d.* a-day after 2 years' service; and if he can read and write, and is deserving, he has every prospect of promotion to be non-commissioned officer, with a further increase of pay.

When a soldier is transferred to the Reserve for the last 6 years of his engagement, he receives 4*d.* a-day, in return for which he is liable to be drilled occasionally; the object of training and exercise will, however, be so arranged as to interfere as little as possible with his trade or occupation: he is also liable, in case of imminent national danger or of great emergency, to be recalled to service in the Army.

A soldier has no right to remain in the Army for more than 6 years, but the privilege of remaining in it for the whole 12 years will be allowed to such men as may be specially recommended by their commanding officers.

A soldier permitted to remain in the Army for the whole 12 years, if he has conducted himself well and is fit, may be allowed to re-engage, to complete 21 years' service; after which he will, on discharge, become entitled to a pension for life, varying from 9*d.* to 2*s.* 6*d.* a-day, according to his rank and service.

After completing 21 years' service he may apply to be allowed to remain for a further period in the Army. If his application be granted he will continue to serve as a soldier; and will be allowed to claim his discharge at any time, at the expiration of 3 months from the date of his giving notice to his commanding officer of his wish to leave the service.

During his extended service he may earn increased good conduct pay at the rate of—

2*d.* a-day after 6 years' service.
3*d.* " " 12 " "
4*d.* " " 18 " "
5*d.* " " 23 " "
6*d.* " " 28 " "

Digitized by Google

If recalled to service in the Army from the Reserve, a soldier will receive full daily pay, and the time he has served in the Reserve will reckon towards good-conduct pay, as if he had served continuously in the Army; and, if at the end of his limited engagement he re-engages, the time he has served in the Reserve will count year for year towards pension on discharge.

CAVALRY, ROYAL ARTILLERY AND ROYAL ENGINEERS.

A soldier who enlists in the Cavalry, Royal Artillery and Royal Engineers, engages to serve for 12 years in the Army; at the end of which period, if he has conducted himself well and is fit, he may be allowed to re-engage to complete 21 years' service, after which he will, on discharge, receive a pension for life, varying from 8*d.* to 2*s.* 6*d.* a-day, according to his rank and service.

The daily pay of a soldier in the Cavalry is 1*s.* 5*d.*, in the Royal Artillery 1*s.* 5½*d.*, and in the Royal Engineers 1*s.* 4½*d.*, with an additional 1*d.* "beer money" in each case.

A soldier in the Royal Engineers receives, in addition to his ordinary pay, extra "working pay," generally varying from 1*s.* to 2*s.* a-day, according to the nature of the work on which he is employed, and his qualifications; trained artificers and good workmen are, however, alone accepted as recruits for the Royal Engineers.

Soldiers in the Cavalry, Royal Artillery and Royal Engineers receive the same advantages as regards lodging, food, clothing, medical treatment, good conduct pay, and extension of service as have been described as given to soldiers in the Infantry.

ALL ARMS.

In addition to the advantages already explained, canteens are established in which a soldier can buy beer, tobacco, and other articles at cheaper rates than elsewhere. He has the benefit of a regimental school, in which he may get a sound and useful education; the use of a library, and recreation room; and, in most places, other means of amusement. In many places he has time and opportunities given him to learn a trade by which he may earn money whilst in the Army, and be the better prepared for gaining his livelihood when he leaves the service.

If wounded in action, or in any way maimed in the performance of his military duties, he becomes entitled to a pension.

A deserving soldier, on his discharge, is well fitted, from his regular habits, for many situations—such as those in the police, on the railroads, or other employments in civil life—and a good character on discharge from the service gives him the best testimonial for such employment.

As an additional inducement to good men to join Her Majesty's service, advantages are given to soldiers who on leaving the Army may wish for employment in the Civil Service, and to soldiers in the Reserve who wish for employment as country post-office messengers.

There are few callings in civil life open to unskilled labour which promise to a steady and deserving young man such advantages as are offered to a soldier in Her Majesty's Service.
